

SATURDAY, APRIL 16, 1892.

THE republican senatorial convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate for state senator for the 39th district, will be held at Oberlin on August 10, 1892. Trego county will be entitled to three delegates.

SENATOR SAWYER will introduce a bill in the senate for the establishment of the postal telegraph. The bill has been drawn by the F. M. General. A bill for the same purpose was introduced in the last congress but the present bill embodies the idea in a very condensed form. It provides that the government contract with persons or companies owning telegraph lines for the transmission of messages, press dispatches, etc., at a rate to be agreed upon by the two parties of the contract. The bill, in short, is for contracting with the telegraph companies as much as railroad companies are contracted with for carrying the mails. Nothing in the nature of government ownership is aimed at and no new offices are to be provided for. It is simply intended as a stepping stone to a complete system of government telegraph service.

It is a very common thing for boys of poor parents to wish that they were rich, and to believe that they might become famous if they only had the opportunity that some others have. This is a delusion, boys. The sons of rich men do not, as a rule, succeed to their father's places. Go to any large city and select the men who are most successful in the various branches of business, those who have accumulated the largest fortunes, or become most eminent in the learned professions and in nine cases out of ten you will find that it is those who commenced life with nothing but habits of industry, economy and an indomitable will to surmount all obstacles. The boys of rich men are usually failures. They either use their inherited wealth in luxurious living or waste it in dissipation and die in poverty and often in disgrace. No young man who is endowed with good health, good morals and a determination to succeed need despair. The way is clear and success, barring accidents, is sure to come sooner or later. You are the architects of your own fortunes and you will succeed if you are worthy. Do not allow the word "fail" to have a place in your vocabulary. We might add here that smoking cigarettes and spending your leisure hours in loafing, instead of acquiring useful knowledge is not the best way to make a start.
